WISTAR'S Balsam of Wild Cherry

feerbuse. Pain or Wenham of the Braush or side, First stages of Current pains, 22.

In short, this Balsam is peculiarly adapted to everydiscense of the Lungs and Liver, which is produced in our ever-varying climate.

WILD CHERRY has long been known to possess important medicinal properties. This fact is familiar to every matron in our land, and physicians often prescribe it in different forms for a variety of complaints. Tax, also, has been equally noted for its virtues; and some physicians, whose names are familiar to the whole country, have gone so far as to declare that even Consumption could be cared by that alone. In other hands, again, it was bearly valueless, owing, no doubt, to their ignorance in preparing and administering it—a difficulty now entirely obviated by patient experiment and long experience.

The extraordinary medicinal powers of these two substances are now, for the first time, combined and embodied in Dr. Wiria's Balsam of Wild Carray. By a nice chemical process, everything deleterious or useless is rejected, so that what remains is the mest extraordinary and truly efficacious remedy for all kinds of pulmonary and liver diseases ever known to man. To convinds all unbelievers that our theory is really true, we refer to a few cases of cures performed by this wonderful medicine:

hectic fever, severe pains in the side and chest, cold chills, alternating with flushes of heat and copious night sweats.

I was under the care of a skillful physician, from the time I was taken sick until about six weeks since, being then about helpless, and my frieads considered my case hopeless, or at least beyond our Physician s skill, advised the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Without my knowledge, my futher protured it, and commenced administering it to me, and from the tirst day I commenced taking it my health improved, and in two weess from the time I commenced aking it, I was able to be out and overace my business, and labor, which I still consee my business, and labor, which I still conwell. E. Kalb, a highly respectable merchant of Rushville, Fairfield co., O., scut us the follow ing voluntary tribute to "Dr. Wistar' Balsam of Wild Cherry," Rushville, Fairfield co., O., April 6, 1851.

Mr. J. D. Park—Dear Sir: I wish to state to you that my daughter, Amanda, aged sixteen years, had, about a year since, a very severe attack of measels which reduced her very much, and left her with a racking cough. I employed all of the physicians within our reach for the purpose of removing her cough, but without success. She appeared to be sinking into a decline, with every symptom of consumstion. I then tried Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar.' Put this aggravated her cough, and gave her symptoms of a still more malignant character. aymptons of a still more malignant character. I was now most seriously alarmed, and it was with trembling fear that I from day to day, saw the progress of that insatiable disease, consumption. I really despaired of my daughter's recovery. But I providentially saw the certificate of Jonathan Coulson, whose daughter, Sarah Jane, was cured of consumption by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry; this created a faint hope that it might help my daughter, and it almost instantly gave relief, her health was improved from the first bottle, and by the use of two bottles of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, she was restored to perfect health, and
